League Associate Director Craig Perry announces retirement

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR DR. CRAIG PERRY announced at the League’s Board of Directors meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 4, that he will be retiring from his position, effective Aug. 8.

Perry, who has served in his League role since 2005, shared with the board that he plans to move to a fulltime role as vice president with the U.S. Council for Athletes’ Health, an organization based in Columbus, Ohio.

The USCAH’s mission states: “To provide independent and unbiased medical expertise to organizations and individuals committed to the optimal health and safety for the athletes they serve.”

In his role with the USCAH, Perry will evaluate internal assessments, organizational culture, and compliance to assist USCAH partners drive results.

With the League, Perry’s primary responsibility has been to oversee the eligibility process, compliance and the interpretation of the organization’s rules, policies and bylaws. He also administers girls and boys tennis, girls and boys hockey, wrestling, clay target, and the Sports Medicine Advisory Committee.

In addition to his service to the League and its member schools, Perry has had a national impact as well. With the National Federation of State High School Associations, he served as the chairman of the ice hockey rules committee. In 2015, he was selected the recipient of the prestigious Frank Kovaleski Development Award. The award is presented annually to a National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association member that has made significant contributions and demonstrated excellence in professional development at the local, state and national levels.

Following a series of on-ice incidents, Perry played an instrumental role in the League implementing stricter penalties for illegal contact during the 2011-12 season. Those Minnesota adoptions in the rules later became national guidelines by the NFHS.

“I am proud that our work here in Minnesota has led to this national rules change,” Perry said in a statement at the time.

“What we have done is encouraged play that is smart and play that is safe. The stiffer penalties in Minnesota have made the game safer. We have improved the culture of high school hockey.”

WHAT IS NEW in sports medicine for this year?

As always, the Sports Medicine Advisory Committee (SMAC) is addressing sport safety with respect to our high school athletes. Policy decisions for our athletes should be based on data and we are looking at ways to see what is happening during practices and on the field of play to help shape medical recommendations and improve athlete safety.

Concussion remains a priority and in concert with state law, we are working to keep our information for athletes, coaches, and parents updated. The International Concussion work group will be meeting in Paris later this year in October for the 5th Consensus Statement and we will update our procedures and protocols following the publication of their work.

Mental health is an issue that has received increased attention in sports medicine at the college and high school levels this past year. The American Medical Society for Sports Medicine published a position statement this past month and the Preparticipation Monograph 5th Edition (PPE5) added a chapter on the topic. We will use both documents to shape any new recommendations to the Board regarding mental health issues for our athletes.

Vaping is high on the list of concerns for our athletes. While most athletes recognize smoking tobacco is a health risk, vaping was under the radar and spreading in use until people started to die. We have worked with M Health Fairview to produce education public service announcements to be used at state tournaments and other events emphasizing the risks for student athletes.

We continue to address the issues of heat and cold in practice and competition to improve our athletes’ safety profile. With predictions for extreme cold on race day, the Nordic Skiing state meet was postponed by one day to reduce the risk of frostbite amongst the racers. Race day was still cold, but not extreme, and the competition was completed without incident. August always carries the risk of hot and humid conditions in Minnesota, although not to the extent that our neighbors to the south deal with on a near daily basis. We have worked with the National Weather Service to develop wet bulb globe temperature recommendations for practice and competition modifications based on the north and south sections of the state. The recommendations are on our web site.

The preparticipation evaluation forms were modified to meet the new recommendations in PPE5. The questionnaire form is shorter and hopefully easier to complete. The writing group recommends that all student athletes have their exam completed in their health care home by their primary care provider, and the SMAC agrees with that recommendation.

If you have concerns or recommendations for our high school athletes, feel free to contact us through the MSHSL.
Girls hockey records

- Breck and Luverne combined for no shots on goal by both teams in a period in Breck’s quarterfinal victory. The previous record had been a combined five by Austin and Breck in 2008.

- Breck’s Emily Zumwinkle had four assists in the first period against Luverne to tie a record set by Roseville Area’s Ronda Curtin in 1996.

- Warroad scored six power play goals during the tournament to equal the record held by three other teams, most recently Breck in 2012.

- Andover’s overtime victory over Minnetonka in the Class AA championship semifinals was its fourth extra session of play, tying a mark set by Hibbing/Chisholm.

- South St. Paul head coach Dave Palmquist added another victory to his all-time tournament total and sits at 27. Warroad’s David Marvin is next with 22.

- In winning the Class AA championship, Andover snapped Edina’s 11-game tournament winning streak. Minnetonka also had an 11-game winning streak from 2011-15. Breck’s winning streak at the state tournament in Class A is 13 games, dating to 2011. The all-time Class A record streak is 16 held by Blake from 2007-15.

Manderfeld receives merit award for pioneering efforts

Region 6AA Executive Secretary Nancy Manderfeld last month was the recipient of a special merit award during the 34th annual Minnesota Girls and Women in Sports Day for her pioneering efforts in the advancement of girls and women’s athletics.

The New Ulm native has served as the region executive secretary since 1990. After graduating from New Ulm Cathedral in 1972, she attended Mankato State University and the University of St. Thomas.

In addition to a high school teaching and coaching career, she officiated volleyball and basketball at the junior high, high school and collegiate levels. Manderfeld was the first female public address announcer for the Edina girls basketball team, the League’s girls basketball state tournament and the University of Minnesota women’s basketball team.

NFHS news

- The Rhode Island Interscholastic League Principals’ Committee on Athletics voted unanimously to promote current RIIL Assistant Executive Director Michael Lunney to the executive director position, effective Aug. 1. He succeeds Tom Mezzanote, who announced his retirement in November following 16 years of service as the executive director of the RIIL.

- Claire Curzan, a sophomore at Cardinal Gibbons High School in Raleigh, set a national record in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 50.35 seconds at the North Carolina High School Athletic Association girls swimming state meet. Later in the meet, she set a national record in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 51.38. It was short-lived, though. A day later in Tennessee, Alex Walsh of Harpeth Hall in Nashville topped the mark with a time of 51.35.

- North Linn (Iowa) boys basketball coach Bob Hilmer recorded the 900th victory of his career this season. He is the 33rd coach in national history to reach that milestone.

- The Montana High School Association recently passed proposals to offer girls wrestling and boys powerlifting to its member schools.

- The Wyoming High School Activities Association has voted to sanction softball for the first time beginning in the spring of 2021.

- The Texas University Interscholastic League Class 6A Division I football championship game drew 47,818 to AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Tex.

- When the Fargo South/Shanley boys hockey team recorded a victory over Grand Forks Central in January, it snapped the Knights’ 81-game winning streak against North Dakota opponents that dates to 2016.

Examples of these services include:

- Arbiter - ArbiterSports specializes in registering, certifying eligibility, and assigning officials. It also provides an option to pay officials. Beginning with the 2019-20 school year, all MSHSL officials registered and completed eligibility tasks within Arbiter. Scheduling and paying officials for state tournament events is also been completed through Arbiter.

- Trackwrestling - Trackwrestling was used by the Minnesota wrestling community to track wrestlers prior to this year. Beginning with the 2019-20 school year, weight management and team and individual records for all MSHSL wrestlers has also been done through Trackwrestling. Team and individual records are maintained within Trackwrestling. State tournament individual brackets are also managed through this service.

- iWanamaker - iWanamaker debuted last spring at the MSHSL post-season tournaments. Board-approved revisions to the 2019-2020 Golf Rules and Policies now allow golfers to use technology from tee to green; this service and app will be available to all MSHSL golf teams to record and publish scores and statistics.

- Tennis Reporting - Tennis Reporting is used by players in both the offseason and during the MSHSL tennis season to track matches and records. During the season, coaches, fans, and players can follow the progress of a tennis player.

These are a few of the currently used services that provide expanded benefits and opportunities to MSHSL activities, players, staff and fans!
